Hello,

Chances are that you've missed job deadlines because of longer-than-necessary worker downtime. It's possible you've had delays from driving employees back and forth from the site or to and from different clinics. Could be that someone got hurt at 2 a.m. and you had to face a long wait at a hospital emergency room just to get her a few stitches. Maybe your driver just needed to pick up his medication and there was no place to park his truck. Worse yet, you could be part of a program that charges you monthly fees whether or not you use their services.

Tri-Industrial Medical Center understands these problems can be expensive. We lower your operating costs by solving these problems and getting your people back to work as soon as possible.

After you've enrolled with us, let's say one of your people gets hurt. Even if it's 2 a.m., simply call our office. There's no appointment needed. Even better, if it's between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. and your employee is within twelve miles of us, we'll come pick them up at no charge. Once at our office, they're greeted right away and given paperwork as soon as possible.

Once the doctor has seen your employee, any medications prescribed are dispensed on site - no need for an extra trip. After their treatment is complete and it's within our delivery window, we'll return your worker at no additional cost.

Speaking of costs, here's the best part: you're only billed for services rendered. No sign-up, monthly, or annual fees.

Get your employees back to work faster. Meet job deadlines more often. Save yourself hassle, time, and money...
